Our solution

The solution is to use a string that is long enough to be held in the right hand and the left hand. The string is held in the right hand and the string is held in the left hand. The string is held in the right hand and the string is held in the left hand. The string is held in the right hand and the string is held in the left hand.
